PROMISES GOOD PLAYS THIS YEAR

Season at Walter's Theatre to Open with Several Good Offerings. Amusement Garden now being Built.

Gettysburg's theatrical season is to open with many first-class attractions which have been secured for the latter part of August and the beginning of September.

"The Havoc" is due to open the season the last week in August but the date has not yet been announced. Paul Gilmore who appeared here several years ago in "The Mummy and the Humming Bird," heads the company. "Within the Law" is booked for September 15 and "Bought and Paid For" on September 20. In October "The Butterfly on the Wheel" will be one of the attractions.

Manager John F. Walter has always found it possible to get better shows early in the season than at any other time and he is particularly fortunate this year in his selection of plays to present to local people. Experience in the past has shown Gettysburg to be an uncertain quantity in the line of patronage from December 10 until after Lent, and the earlier in the season the better the support, has been the lesson learned. It is believed that the rule will hold again this year.

In addition to the above attractions Mr. Walter has booked Washburn's Uncle Tom's Cabin show for September 3 and Vogel's Minstrels for January 20. He has a number of other companies in view and will doubtless provide plenty of this sort of entertainment for the people of town during the fall and winter months.

Mr. Walter has gone ahead rapidly with the building of his "Garden Auditorium" which he is erecting on Hanover Street, between Third and Fourth. It will be in the nature of an open air pavilion with 9000 square feet of floor space. The floor will be of maple and built for dancing while the pavilion will be adapted to the holding of fairs, festivals, socials and gatherings of all sorts. Arrangements will be made so that a stage can be provided should the place be desired for convention purposes. Movable chairs will be installed and drop curtains about the sides so that ample protection will be furnished in case of inclement weather.

Mr. Walter expects to have the building ready for use the first week in September.

COTTAGE BURNED

Reflection in Western Sky Came from Cottage Fire.

The reflection of a large blaze could be seen in the west Sunday night but all efforts to locate the fire failed. It was the reflection from the burning Brockway cottage at Charnian owned by Mrs. Howard Brockway, now traveling in Maine, and was occupied by the family of Capt. C. Power, U. S. A., who is stationed at Fort Dodge, Ia.

The building was fired by lightning but the flames made little headway until an hour later when neighbors discovered the house in flames. The family was on the first floor, unaware of their danger, when neighbors warned them and assisted in removing the furniture and clothing much of which was saved.

TRAVELED 50,000 MILES

Goes Twice around the World on Trolley Car.

Jacob Harpel, a conductor on the Littlestown trolley line, has traveled over 50,000 miles, or twice around the world, since he has been employed by the company. He is the oldest conductor on the line and the second oldest employee in the service of the company, having entered their employ July 22, 1895. He served as a motor-man for two years, when he was given charge of one of the cars to McSherrystown, as conductor. He has been a faithful and trustworthy employee, and is held in high esteem by the officials of the company and patrons on the line.

SOLDIER KILLED IN LONG FALL

Trooper who Spent Several Weeks here and Made a Number of Acquaintances Fell out of a Hotel Window. Fatally Hurt.

Cornelius Driscoll, about 29 years old, a member of the Fifteenth United States Cavalry, which was here for several weeks in July and is now encamped at Winchester, Va., fell from a window on the third floor of the City Hotel, Hagerstown, early Sunday morning and sustained injuries from which he died later at the Washington County Hospital. Driscoll will be well remembered by a number of Gettysburg people with whom he became acquainted.

Policeman Jacob Sailes found the insensible soldier lying on the sidewalk at 3:45. He notified Proprietor W. Earl McCardell and Dr. W. B. Morrison was summoned.

Driscoll was removed to the Washington County Hospital and died as he was being carried in. On the way to the hospital he became conscious for a moment and recognized his soldier companion, James O'Sullivan, who had occupied the same room with him.

Driscoll's body was a mass of bruises. One side of his head was crushed in and both arms were fractured.

McCardell went to the room that had been occupied by Driscoll and awakened O'Sullivan and Sgt. O. R. May, Arthur Carroll and Leroy Green, who occupied the communicating room. None of the soldiers knew of Driscoll's accident.

They could offer no explanation whatever as to how Driscoll received the injuries. He was a most genial fellow, well liked and was never known to drink to excess. He was possessed of a fine disposition. There was no trouble whatever between the men and they all retired at the same time.

A half-smoked cigarette lay on the window sill. It is thought that he sat in the window to smoke and fell asleep and tumbled out.

A coroner's jury returned a verdict that Driscoll's death was due to an accident.

FIRE IN CHURCH

Chandelier Fell Causing Damage to Extent of $400.

"The pretty little town of Boiling Springs was greatly excited Sunday evening because of a fire that broke out in St. John's Lutheran church shortly after the evening service had closed, and which resulted in damage to the interior of the edifice to the amount of about $400. Sexton Philip Reighter was engaged in upturning the cushions of the pews, when suddenly the center chandelier fell down with a crash, breaking it to small bits and causing a blaze. He at once went to a window and called to some people standing outside. Herman Gutshall and others got buckets of water and by dint of hard and quick work extinguished the flames which were going ceilingward pretty rapidly. The fire engine was taken out but the services of the department were not needed.

The carpet was burned and the interior of the edifice smoked badly. The chandelier, which fell by reason of the cable breaking, is a complete wreck. The damage will amount to about $400, covered by insurance.

COLLEGE TEAM IS SHUT OUT

Catholics Win their First Full Game by Administering Shut Out to the College Lutherans. Lively Batting for Winners.

In a one sided game Monday evening the Catholics walked away from their opponents, the College Lutherans, and handed them a shut out. Score 6-0. Collection $6.41.

The game started at six-thirty with Lawrence Oyler at the bat for the Catholics. He took his base on balls and was followed by the veteran Charles Stock, who sacrificed him to second. Joe Stock singled and Oyler dusted home bringing the first run for the Catholics. Stock died on base when Kimple drove out a fly to left field and Rosensteel was caught at first.

The Lutherans were unable to do anything in their half of the inning and at the beginning of the second Hartzel gave Wisotzkey his base on balls, and stole second. Swope singled, taking first and advancing Wisotzkey to third. He was out though when a little later he tried to steal home. Simon Stock fanned out and Paul Stock hit a little pop-fly which netted him first. Oyler followed with a two-bagger scoring Swope and Stock. Charlie Stock took the club next and was given four balls. Oyler scored on a bad throw from catcher to third base. Joe Stock hit safely for base, Kimple drove out a two bagger scoring the Stock brothers. Kimple died on base when Rosensteel fanned out.

The end of the second saw three strike outs in succession for the Lutherans, and from then on until the end of the fifth, when the game was finished, neither side did much of anything but fan and get thrown out at first until Thomas drove out a two-bagger to right field but was caught when trying to steal third.

College presented a different lineup from that put out at the time of their first appearance and the nine included principally present and former members of the Sunday School.

ASSESSORS GET THEIR BLANKS

County Commissioners on Monday Furnished them with Enrollment Blanks and they are now Visiting the Voters.

The county commissioners have decided to enforce the party enrollment act recently approved by Governor Tener and certificates for electors to qualify as to their political affiliation, if they desire to vote for party candidates at the primaries next month, were furnished on Monday to the registry assessors of the boroughs and townships of the county.

The certificates to be filled out by the borough and township electors are to be returned to the office of the county commissioners with their amended registry lists Thursday, September 4, and they will be used for reference in case of dispute over the marking in the ballot and voting check lists.

Provisions of the party enrollment act include the following:

At each and every registration of voters, in all districts of the state, there shall be a registration and enrollment of the voters, according to their party preferences, and affiliations: Provided, that if at any time the law provides for the nomination of candidates for any office at nonpartisan primaries, then every registered voter shall be entitled to receive and vote such non-partisan primary ballot.

If a voter about to register as member of a party is challenged, he shall not be registered unless he makes oath that at the last preceding November election at which he voted he voted for a majority of the candidates of that party. Any qualified voter may enroll as member of any party which has secured the exclusive use of a party name for the ensuing primary. If a voter does not desire to vote at a primary election, he shall not be required to answer as to his party membership.

In all election districts, other than in cities, the assessor or registry assessor, shall, within 45 days after the approval of the enrollment act, make an enrollment of each voter residing in his district, and thereafter, annually, make such enrollment of all voters in his district.

The assessor shall ascertain, if possible, by personal inquiry, the party politics of the voter, and in case the voter is not at his residence he shall leave a certificate of enrollment, which the voter may fill out and give to the assessor before the 63d day preceding each primary.

If a voter does not desire to vote at a primary election he shall not be required to sign the certificate. No voter registered as a member of one party shall be allowed to receive or vote a ballot of any other party at a primary election, and no voter who is not enrolled as member of some political party shall be permitted to vote at any primary election.

SLAIN WOMAN FOUND IN MARSH

Mutilated Victim May Have Been Decayed to Spot.

FINGER PRINTS AS CLUES

Stained Jack Knife and Shoemaker's Last Were Found Near the Body of Slain Woman.

New York, Aug. 12.—A young woman was found murdered in a patch of marsh ground near Spuyten Dayville creek, the northern extremity of Manhattan Island.

Her throat had been cut from ear to ear, her hands were badly lacerated, and torn clothes and foot prints in the vicinity indicated that she had struggled vainly with one or more assailants.

The body was found by Frank G. Allen, who was taking a short cut across lots to his home. He stumbled over the body, which still was warm. An ambulance surgeon said the woman probably had not been dead more than two hours.

The woman was about thirty years old, had chestnut brown hair, regular features and weighed about 140 pounds. She was five feet five inches tall. She was neatly clothed in a white shirtwaist, a black skirt, black stockings and tan shoes.

The police believe she was decaying to the lonely spot, but the motive is unknown.

Many New York employment agencies take the finger prints of their applicants. Upon this practice rested the hope of central office detectives to identify the victim. Every identifying mark on her clothing had been effaced. Experts from police headquarters made imprints of her fingers at the morgue. Detectives are searching the finger print files of employment agencies on the theory that she may have been a domestic. A stained jack knife and a shoemaker's last found near the body are believed to have been used by the assailant and furnish the only clues so far.

Two score detectives, armed with an excellent description of the suspected slayer, are making a city-wide search for him.

For hours, following the discovery of the body the police reserves of the St. Nicholas avenue station, picking their way by means of lanterns and torches, tramped through the dense wood adjoining the swamp in search of the slayer, believing that he might have sought refuge there.

The man for whom the detectives are searching is described as being about five feet five inches tall, strongly built and wearing what is believed to have been a blue suit and straw hat. This description was furnished to the police by the conductor of a Broadway car, who said that shortly before the time the murder is believed to have occurred he saw a man of that description leave his car and walk toward the swamp as if expecting to meet some one.

The foot prints found where the body lay were clear cut and a policeman was stationed there to prevent them from being destroyed. They will be cut out and sent to headquarters for identification purposes in the event of the arrest of suspects.

Police Captain Hulse said: "It was one of the most brutal murders I have ever had any experience with. Considerable mystery surrounds the means used to get the girl into the swamp, but there is no doubt in my mind that she was decaying there. It looks like a case of jealousy, for no sane man intent only on killing a person would inflict the terrible wounds that brought about the girl's death."

WANTS CODY'S ESTATE FOR AVIATOR'S WIDOW

Mother-in-Law Takes Steps to Obtain Property For Her.

Norristown, Pa., Aug. 12.—Because she feels that her daughter, who was the wife of Samuel F. Cody, the English aviator killed during a flight in England last week, is entitled to his estate, Mrs. Joseph Lee, of 930 Howe street, Camden, N. J., called at the clerk of court's office for the purpose of obtaining a certification of the widow's marriage.

When Samuel F. Cody married Miss Maud M. Lee, of Spring Mill, in 1889, he was a crack pistol shot with a wild west show, and not then the renowned English soldier with a record for daring in operating his army biplane.

After a short but romantic courtship Cody, who was then twenty-two years of age, married the Spring Mill girl, who was then eighteen. Justice of the Peace John W. Schall performed the ceremony on April 8, 1889.

About eight years ago, while performing with a parachute, Mrs. Cody had a fall and she was so badly injured about the head that her mind became a blank. She was then taken to the State Hospital for the Insane at Norristown, where she has since been an inmate.

WILSON SEES PLOT TO BRING ON WAR

Organized Effort to Force Intervention in Mexico.

THE SITUATION IS IMPROVED

John Lind Arrives in Mexican Capital and Starts Conferences With Charge d'Affaires.

Washington, Aug. 12.—President Wilson let it be known that he was inclined to believe there was an organized desire—proceeding from sources unknown to him—to bring on a war between the United States and Mexico.

The president does not regard the movement as extensive, but as very troublesome, and referred to misrepresentations in some individual newspapers. He indicated that he shared somewhat the views of Senator John Sharp Williams, who declared in the senate on Saturday that an organized lobby existed to involve the United States in war.

There is no occasion for alarm, in the opinion of the president, who told his callers that within the last forty-eight hours the Mexican situation had improved materially. It was made clear by the president that the instructions to John Lind, his personal representative, who has arrived in Mexico City, were chiefly to inform the American government how things stood generally in Mexico and just what were the opportunities for the good offices of the United States in the interests of peace.

Sooner or later, it was pointed out, Lind will make certain suggestions to the Huerta government through the American embassy, but in just what circumstances has not been determined upon. Anything in the suggestions that properly may be made public will be revealed, according to administration officials in Washington, and foreign governments will be constantly apprised of the various steps taken by the United States. This may not take place for several days.

The president has had no direct communication either with the Huerta government or the Constitutionalists, and he indicated to his callers that he would welcome more information about the purpose of the Constitutionalists.

It was learned also that the president has not formally considered recognition of the belligerency of the Constitutionalists, but that, insofar as territory alone is concerned, he regarded that held by the Constitutionalists as strong enough in proportion to that controlled by the Huerta government to make recognition of the Constitutionalists not wholly unjustifiable from a diplomatic standpoint.

With Lind safely in a suite at the Hotel Lascruain, Mexico City, where he is under the direct protection of the American embassy, state department officials breathed easier, for they considered that the most perilous stage of Lind's mission has now been passed.

It was feared that Huerta would either bar Lind from landing at Vera Cruz or would provide such slight protection that he might be assaulted with impunity. Neither of these fears proved to be justified and the only action of Huerta now expected against the United States after he receives the later's message from President Wilson.

LIND TAKES UP WORK

Goes Over Situation With Charge d'Affaires and W. B. Hale.

Mexico City, Mex., Aug. 12.—Ex-Governor John Lind, the personal envoy of President Wilson in Mexico City, installed himself in temporary offices in the United States embassy as unofficial adviser to the American charge d'affaires, Nelson O'Shaughnessy.

Lind devoted several hours to close conference with the charge d'affaires, discussing the difficulties of the Mexican nation, for which it is said he brings a panacea.

Dr. William Bayard Hale, who no longer hides his identity as the confidential envoy of President Wilson, called at the embassy and held a long conference with Lind and O'Shaughnessy. No one at the conference would state what the first steps of the pacification plan were to be or when they were to be taken.

Frederico Gamboa, the new Mexican secretary of foreign relations, speaking with regard to Lind's mission, said: "I have great faith in the reasonableness of the judgment of the United States, and I have the conviction that the difficulties between Mexico and the United States will soon be adjusted."

There was to be a great demonstration to show the popular approval of Huerta's refusal to consider mediation, but the affair dwindled into a parade of students and laborers, estimated to number not more than 1000. The president and his cabinet reviewed the parade and there was at no time any tendency toward disorder.

Two Aviators Are Killed.

Berlin, Aug. 12.—Two more lives were sacrificed to aviation when Roesler, a navigator, and a pupil were killed while making a flight over the aerodrome at Bruck. The accident was caused by the machine tilting in mid-air. It plunged from a height of 450 feet and both airmen were crushed. This accident makes the aviation death toll 308.

MONEY BILL HELD AS FARMER'S AID

Carter Glass Defends Measure as Bar to Speculation

INSURGENTS IN MINORITY

Will Probably Be Reported to the House by Democrats With Overwhelming Majority.

Washington, Aug. 12.—The administration banking and currency bill was acclaimed at a caucus of the house Democrats, called to formally give the measure party endorsement.

The developments indicated that the bill will be ordered reported by a majority so overwhelming as to discourage opposition to it in the house by insurgents who have rallied around the banner held aloft by Representative Henry, of Texas, chairman of the committee on rules.

The insurgents were defeated at the outset of the caucus. Representative Neeley, of Kansas, who voted against the administration bill in committee, presented a resolution providing that representatives of the press be admitted to the sessions of the caucus. This was beaten by a vote of 119 to 63.

Most of the session was consumed in the presentation of a speech by Representative Glass of Virginia, the chairman of the house committee on banking and currency, who outlined the provisions of the bill at length.

Mr. Glass was followed closely by every member present, and he was frequently interrupted by applause. His speech, which began as a general statement of the purposes and hopes of its framers, was turned into an emphatic defense of the measure when the "insurgents" insisted that it should make provision for the issuance of currency upon warehouse receipts for corn, wheat and cotton.

Speculation would receive the active support of the government, he declared, if these amendments were put into the bill. The legitimate demands of farming communities, he said, for money to carry on ordinary farming and commercial operations were fully covered by the measure, and to make warehouse receipts for cotton or grain a legal security for the issuance of the proposed new treasury notes would furnish the means by which speculators could hold the cotton and grain crops in storage for an indefinite period.

At the conclusion of the caucus the leaders said that as a result of this speech the administration bill is now stronger among house Democrats than it has been at any time since the agitation for immediate reform of the banking and currency laws began. The prediction is made that the bill will go through the caucus substantially as it was agreed to by the Democrats of the house committee. No changes will be permitted by the leaders that are not suggested or approved by the administration.

As a result of an agreement made in caucus the bill probably will not be ready for presentation to the house until next week. Adopting a conciliatory attitude towards the insurgents, who are expected to fall into line as soon as the caucus registers its approval of the banking bill, it was agreed that eight hours should be allowed for general debate. It is the expectation that general debate will come to an end tomorrow.

30,000 CATHOLICS MEET

Bishop McPaul Favors State Support for Parochial Schools.

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 12.—Three sessions of the convention of the American Federation of Catholic Societies are to be held, starting with a business meeting in the auditorium.

While visiting Catholics number some 50,000, the business of the association is in the hands of about 500 delegates.

The big convention was featured by a parade of various societies in which more than 15,000 persons took part, and in the evening by a sacred concert.

Among the things to be discussed during the convention are religious teaching in public schools and the problem of taxing Catholic citizens to maintain public schools, when they are already maintaining parochial schools. Bishop McPaul's solution for this is:

"First—Let Catholic schools remain as they are.

"Second—Let no compensation be made for religious instruction. Our principle is, let the pastor take care of the flock and live by the flock.

"Third—Let Catholic children be examined by a state or municipal board, and if Catholic schools furnish the regular education required, let the state put down the cash."

FIND SLAIN MAN BURIED IN CREEK

Body of Aged Laborer Found With Throat Cut.

Lancaster, Pa., Aug. 12.—Coroner Miller, of Lancaster county, is investigating a murder mystery which was uncovered by a fisherman, when the body of an aged German farm laborer was found buried in the bed of Indian creek, near Schoenock.

John Jacoby and his wife were out fishing along the stream, and the latter, stepping on a soft spot on a sand shoal, investigated with a stick and brought to light a pair of suspenders, shirt, tuft of hair and finally a man's head.

The coroner was notified and exhumed the body. He learned that the victim was Frank Goldsmith, eighty-five years old. There was a wound on his right temple, caused by a blunt instrument, and the throat was cut.

Goldsmith, who was a farm laborer, had not been seen since July 22. It is believed he was murdered on Monday and his body covered in a clump of bushes until night, when it was buried in the stream under six inches of sand.

The shoal in which the body was found is located below a grist mill, and at night the stream is very low, because the water is conserved for next day's milling.

Revenge and robbery were probably the motives for the murder. Goldsmith refused to associate with his fellow laborers, by whom he became disliked. He was a pensioner, and a leather bag, in which he kept his possessions, has not been found. A large keen-edged knife he carried is also missing, and it is believed the murder was committed with the murdered man's own knife. No arrests have been made.

DEAD RULER SHOT IN CASKET

Haytian Military Escort at Funeral Fires Volley Into Body.

New York, Aug. 12.—Marfield Kemp, a civil engineer, of Lexington, Ind., who returned on the steamship Abingdon from Hayti, said that he was the only American who was present at the funeral of President Tancred Augustus, who was poisoned.

The funeral was held in the big cathedral at Port au Prince. A guard of honor composed of twelve men was ranged around the coffin. As soon as the services in the cathedral were concluded, he said, the captain of the guard gave an order and the entire squad fired into the coffin.

This was taken as a signal by all the rest of the soldiers and the troops opened fire. A panic started and a rush was made for the doors, many being trampled upon. Augustus was very much disliked.

Kemp said that the new president, Michael Oreste, was very popular and was trying to place the currency of the country on a sound basis.

CASTRO'S RELATIVE TAKEN

Leader of Revolutionary Venezuelan Force Captured.

Caracas, Venezuela, Aug. 12.—General Torres Castro, a relative of former President Cipriano Castro, has been captured by government troops commanded by Generals Corcegas, sayago and Bustamante.

A number of General Torres Castro's officers, who had fled to the mountains of Macuro, after the defeat of Castro's adherents on July 28, at Macuro, also were taken prisoners.

Fighting continues in the state of Tachira. The government troops arrived at Maracay on Friday under the command of President Juan Vicente Gomez.

Golf Ball Burns Girl.

Chicago, Aug. 12.—Agnes Marek, twelve years old, was probably fatally burned by hydrochloric acid from the core of a golf ball, which she placed in her mouth to crack and find out what was inside. The child found the ball at the Glen Oak Country club, and after tearing off the outer casing she bit into the core with her teeth.

RAPS COTTON MEN IN TARIFF SPEECH

Senator Hollis Assails Them For Treatment of Employees.

Washington, Aug. 12.—Senator Hollis, of New Hampshire, Democrat, flayed the cotton manufacturers of New England in a tariff speech in which he declared that New England had not been discriminated against, and characterized as false the charge that tariff reduction would ruin the textile industry there.

"The cotton manufacturers have taken the highest protection and paid pauper wages," said he. "They are compelled by statute to work humane hours and conduct their business on humane lines; and not one has voluntarily reduced the hours of labor."

"They seek to control the government to prevent legislation escape just taxation, to control the police and inferior courts, and secure military aid for the suppression of strikes. They secure special commodity rates for their goods and other preferences from the railroads."

"Thousands of adult operatives work for $7 a week and live under wretched conditions; the death rate in our New England mill cities is the highest in the United States. It is certain that the cotton industry of New England should not receive any special consideration in the pending bill, due to past good conduct."

"In recent contest in New England for United States senator, certain Democratic members of the legislature chanced to be employees of a certain great textile corporation. They were waited upon at their homes and 'requested' not to vote for the caucus candidate. They were not threatened with discharge, but the implication was very plain. What sort of a claim have men like this to special favors at the hands of a Democratic congress?"

Though Senator Hollis did not say so, the reference was taken by other senators to be to the recent New Hampshire contest in which he was elected after a deadlock.

Special Shoe Sale

—For MEN and for WOMEN—

Genuine bargains—fresh snappy styles with quality guaranteed. Our contribution to your summer's enjoyment is this unusual opportunity we offer you of securing these Summer Styles in time to wear them during the long stretch of hot weather still due us.

Broken sizes and odd lots simply MUST be moved to make way for our Fall Styles now on the way. We believe it better business to take a loss on our "left-overs" rather than carry them over until another year. Hence the surprisingly low prices.

Fall goods are daily arriving and crowding out what little remains of our summer stock. If you need clothing or furnishings and can be fitted in what remains of our summer stock, take advantage of these very special values offered below. True to our custom we will not carry goods over from one season to another.
